

Great Chance to Explore One of Kobe's Local Industries!

Study Tour of “The Kobe Shimbun” Newspaper

Attention International Students Staying in Kobe!

In February 2018 celebrated the 120th anniversary of establishment, the local Japanese-language newspaper Kobe Shimbun is one of the leading companies of Kobe and its surrounding areas. The paper is not only engaged in simply disseminating news and information. It also has linkages with institutions such as Kobe University, Kwansei Gakuin University and Konan University . Kobe Shimbun deploys “Knowledge Power” derived from such arrangements toward realizing a sound and healthy “Land”, in giving a helping hand in boosting the local economy as well as promoting disaster prevention and mitigation, in addition to generating an environment for safe child-rearing. Based on its information- transmitting as well as networking power unique to a local newspaper, Kobe Shimbun is committed to promoting people-to-people connection and a further widening of such circles, thereby helping to shape the local society and its future better than ever before .

We invite you to gain a closer knowledge of a part (editorial) of the newspaper- making process starting with editorial work up through printing and delivery. At the same time, you would learn about how the paper reports on disasters and disaster prevention, through which we hope you would come to feel a greater closeness to Kobe Shimbun and deepen your understanding of its work. You are all very welcome to take part in this very informative and interesting study tour!
